Comment or Question

I do not believe we need to redistrict, but since it is inevitable, after looking at the different possibilities on the maps, map 4 makes the most sense as it is reasonable, simple, and non-drastic. Our rural area districts do not compare to those of big cities so it does not seem necessary to overhaul the districts in an unnecessarily complex way. This seems like a risky opportunity for political power plays when the focus needs to be on special interest group representation.
